BIG DEMONSTRATION ON FOURTH PROVIDES ENJOYMENT FOR THOUSANDS OF VISITORS

MANY NOTED LABOR LEADERS HERE AT THE INVITATION OF COMMITTEE

Large Industrial Parade in the Morning One of the Principal Features of Day---Old Soldiers in Automobiles Lead

PROGRAM FOLLOWED OUT WITH FEW DEVIATIONS

Charleroi had one of the biggest celebrations in its history yesterday and one of the biggest crowds ever in the town enjoyed it. The city had as its guests notable men, principal among which was the miners' idol, John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America. Judge J. F. Taylor of Washington, President Francis Feehan of District No. 5, U. M. W, A. State Senator A. H. Anderson, Timothy Donovan and Van Bitner, prominent mine officials, were among the notables here. Congressman J. K. Tener of Charleroi, Republican nominee for Governor, who was also one of the notables, was tendered an ovation by the Charleroi people and visitors.

The parade was one of the principal features of the day. It started shortly after the hour set in the morning and continued over the principal streets, ending in "The Pines," where speaking followed. The parade was led by automobiles carrying Civil War veterans, mostly members of the Ringgold Cavalry. The marshalls, and horsemen followed. The Charleroi fire department with complete equipment, the North Charleroi and Donora Departments all in dress parade uniform, the Charleroi and Washington Avenue Boys' Brigades, Turner actives and foreign delegations followed, with floats completing the line. The speakers rode in special carriages, with Mr. Mitchell being Supt. of Schools J. G. Pentz, Burgess George Risbeck, and Van Bitner. In the carriage with Judge Taylor and Mr. Tener were Theodore Allen and Rev. C E. Frontz of the reception committee.

After the speaking the guests took dinner at the Wilbur Hotel, and in the afternoon a public reception was given to Mr. Mitchell, Judge Taylor and Mr. Tener. Thousands met and shook hands with them.

The miners' race was held shortly after noon, and the first winner was Wilils Briggs of Charleroi. At the ball park the bull fight between a tame bull and F. B. Franks was scheduled. An immense crowd appeared, and Franks spent over a half hour endeavoring to throw the bull, which absolutely refused to be downed, but instead apparently enjoyed the performance, and landed the man on his back several times. In the morning Franks gave a good demonstration at the ball park and broke all records for strength.

Following the afternoon strong man performance the Catholics and Christians of the church league played a game. A morning game was played between the First Presbyterians and Episcopals.

In the evening from a float at the ball ground fireworks were set off. There was no balloon ascension as scheduled, a telegram having been received at the last moment that the balloonist having broken both his legs it was impossible for him to come or to get a substitute.

BULLETIN SERVICE OF FIGHT PLEASING

Telephone Companies Give Reports of Jeffries—Johnston Battle.

Bulletins from the big prize fight between Johnson and Jeffries at Rano, Nevada, were given out yesterday evening from the balcony of the Charleroi Savings and Trust company building by the Bell Telephone people to an immense crowd. As fast as the news of a round was received by wire it was megaphoned to the waiting crowd, which was decidedly Jeffries in sentiment. When it was announced that Johnson was the winner of the championship in the 15th round there was a groan of disappointment, particularly from those who had the Jeffries end in the betting arena, and these were numerous. One man remarked that he would just as lief received news of a death in his family as to hear that Johnson had won. A negro in the crowd became so hilarious that he provoked an assault, and when he drew a razor the police hustled him to the lockup. A big lot of money changed hands over the result among the sporting fraternity of the town.

LITTLE DISORDER ON THE STREETS

There was little disorder in Charleroi yesterday, considering the immense crowds which thronged the streets from early morn until late at night. Chief of Police C. W. Albright had ten officers on the force, and the presence of these on the streets was sufficient warning to evil doers to be careful. There were but six arrests made in all, two for drunkeness and the others for fighting. One fight was over the result of the Jeffries-Johnson battle.

MRS. FLYNN DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. Mary Flynn, about 70 years old, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Rigby, 733 McKean avenue, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Flynn was the widow of the late Thomas Flynn of Pittsburg. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock with requiem high mass at St. Jerome's Catholic church and interment in Calvary cemetery.

Three-Year-Old Causes Trouble

Wanders Away From Home and is Located in Monessen

After having caused his parents great agony, and a sleepless night, Peter Yaros, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yaros, Russians, of 610 Ninth street, was found at Monessen this morning. The boy had wandered away from his home yesterday afternoon at about 4 o'clock, and no trace of him could be found until a telephone message from Monessen this morning announced that he had been found and was at the police station there.

He was playing alone in the street at about 4 o'clock and it is supposed was attracted by some boys not far distant shooting off fireworks and wandered too far away.

How he got to Monessen is a mystery.

FOURTH BIG DAY FOR ELDORA PARK

One of Largest Crowds in History Accommodated---Dancing A Feature

Fourth of July drew the biggest crowd to Eldora Park that ever assembled at that popular resort. The dancing pavilion was one of the chief sources of amusement, while the other attractions furnished entertainment for the crowds. Basket and family picnics were also a feature, many preferring to spend the day in the cool shade of the park to the crowded towns where demonstrations were held. A still larger crowd was present at night, when the dancing pavilion was taxed to its utmost capacity.

CATHOLICS BEAT CHRISTIANS IN ONE-SIDED GAME

The Catholics won from the Christians in a good, but rather one-sided contest in the afternoon yesterday. The game was featured by the heavy hitting of the Catholics when hits counted, and the non-hitting by the Christans of Beno's breakers. The Catholics scored their first run in the first inning, and three in the third. Four were scored in the seventh, a home run helping to some extent. The score:

FOURTH SPEAKERS LISTENED TO BY GREAT NUMBER OF VALLEY PEOPLE

GOOD WORD SAID FOR OLD SOLDIERS WHO MADE INDEPENDENCE DAY POSSIBLE

Judge J. F. Taylor, and John Mitchell Speak Good Words for Present Day Complex Governent

MR. TENER REFERRED TO AS "THE NEXT GOVERNOR"

Flanked by autos, bands and carriages in a hollow square, 5,000 or 6,000 people stood before the speakers' stand in "The Pines" yesterday where they were treated to some brilliant patriotic and civic addresses by Congressman J. K. Tener, Judge J. F. Taylor, and John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers. The stand which seated about 60 people, the guests of honor, was appropriately draped with the National colors, "Old Glory" being in bold relief to furnish inspiration;. Seated on the platform were the invited guests, members of the Ringgold Battalion, and other civil war veterans, delegations of labor organizations, representatives of the press and various notables. Among these were of course the speakers of the day and the reception committee. Other prominent personages were Francis Feehan, president of district of No 5 Van Bitner, vice president and A. H. Anderson, Republican, candidate for Senator of the Washington-Greene district.

Superintendent J. G. Pentz of the reception committee introducted Congressman John K. Tener, who was given an ovation, which showed the genuine esteem in which he is held by his friends and neighbors. In introducing Judge J. F. Taylor of the Washington county court, Mr. Tener said that of the three branches of government, the legislative, the executive and judiciary, he considered the latter the most important, as it is before that branch that the final test of every law is made. Judge Taylor, who is highly esteemed in this community, also received an ovation. He said in part:

"Honorable Chairman and Fellow-Citizens: We are comparatively a new nation, but we realize that we have a history back of us. This is distinctly a day for Americans and American events. Our history is filled with records of the hardest self sacrifice. If we look back but a little more than a century ago, we find our forefathers in the forests of New England cutting wood with their muskets near at hand and going to church and stacking their crude weapons at the door. We of the present day know but little of the hardships and sacrifices of the old soldiers of Revolutionary times. Then everything was uncertain and life itself was a hardship in the untried forests of the north. But America has since become synonomous for liberty wherever our flag is known.

"Wherever our stars and stripes float upon the breeze is liberty and justice to every man. From a few small settlements in the far north we have grown to a nation of ninety millons of people, whose territory go beyond two oceans. The growth has been made through sacrifice and strife but the old ship of state proudly goes into the second century of the voyage.

"In this time great sacrifices have been laid upon the altar of freedom. Through all the hardships of two long wars there was never a mutiny or refusal to fight for our government and principles for which it stands.

"Under our great free government there is no gift so high but it is within the reach of the humblest citizen. Let us keep it so that when centuries have come and gone halls and galleries will still be filled to proclaim the principles of justice and liberty for each and all."

John Mitchell, who is the idol of the coal miners, was wildly applauded when he was introduced by Congressman J. K. Tener. His talk was along the lines of better citizenship, and he was attentively listened to by the big crowd present. He said, in part:

"When I received a communication from your esteemed citizen and neighbor, the Hon. John K. Tener, inviting me to come here on this occasion, I hesitated somewhat because the Fourth of July is a day that one usually likes to spend at home. But the temptation to spend the day among friends and fellow workmen, and to talk to you briefly, was too strong to be resisted. If I shall talk from the view of and in the language of a workingman I trust that you will consider me none the less patriotic or none the less interested in the history and welfare of this great republic. We are citizens first, and wage earners next. Because this is so we must have first at heart the welfare of our country.

"Let us give all due credit and honor to the farmers of Lexington for their great and glorious achievements. Yet I would remind you that when the fires of liberty burned low and the future appeared dark and hope of liberty was almost gone, the workingmen of New England went into the struggle with hearts of brave, strong and determined men. Yes, the organized workmen of New England played a great part in the struggle for American liberty. The courage and daring of men like the great Paul Revere, an organized labor man, my friends, helped to make possible the priceless liberty that is ours. It was organized men who dumped the tea in the Boston harbor.

"But it is not enough for us to live in the past. It is the duty of every patriotic citizen to preserve the blessed heritage of liberty won by that great struggle and to transmit it to coming generations in greater measure than has been ours to enjoy. It is our duty to keep inviolate the gift that was purchased by our father's blood.

"In the days of the Revolution we did not have the complex civilization of today. We were then an agricultural people. There were then no railroads, no mills, no factories, no telephones, no telegraphs, no street cars, no coal mines. We were four million farmers.

"Since then we have known the greatest and most complex civilization on the earth. The great industrial development has brought with it the most complex problems with which men have ever had to deal; problems as great, if not greater, than confronted our fathers at the time of the Revolution. Every American who

KAMINISKY SAID TO BE AN INMATE OF INSANE ASYLUM

Understood That He Confessed to Crime With Which He Was Charged.

It is stated that Rev. Acacius Kaminisky, late priest at the Greek Catholic church, Charleroi, is now confined in an insane asylum, at Philadelphia, where it is understood he was taken after confessing to a serious crime with which he was charged by a McAdoo citizen. It is understood that while being taken to McAdoo by the constable of that place and Officer Theron Province of Charleroi, that he finally confessed to the crime, and was later held under $1,000 bail for court. Friends intervened, according to information learned this morning, and he was sent to the insane asylum, it being charged that he was mentally irresponsible for his actions.

It is also stated that Rev. Kaminisky is not in good standing in the church having been ex-communicated about a year ago for insubordination to his bishop.

Another Triumph

Barring a few minor disappointments Charleroi's Fourth of July demonstrations was a success in every particular. The crowd came, saw and was conquered. A perfect day, a royal welcome, and plenty of entertainment and enjoyment were what the immense crowd of visitors got for their effort, while Charleroi is several notches higher in the estimation of the surrounding community far and near as a town that does things and does them right.

The committees in charge of the day have reason to be proud of their success. The success of the demonstration was that while there were no wildly sensational features, there were many pleasing and enjoyable forms of entertainment which were varied enough to suit the different tastes and temperaments of all. There was much of the spectacular in the parade, while in the addresses the vast assemblage found ample entertainment. Congressman John K. Tener's cordial welcome to the assembled hosts and his hearty reception emphasized the good will and esteem in which outside peoople have for him. Judge J. F. Taylor's stirring patriotic address made the blood tingle in the veins of all free born Americans, while the earnest appeal of John Mitchell, the great labor leader, for justice, humanity and duty between man and man put the labor situation in a new light to those who might have been led to believe than any means justifies an end.

With ample facilities for taking care of and entertaining the crowd, Charleroi proved to be an admirable host. Good order was maintained throughout the day, and every one fielt perfectly safe from personal molestation and other disagreeable fatures incident to a big crowd. A day spent like the Fourth in Charleroi carries with it no regrets and brings us the good will of all.

Back to Earth

With the Fourth of July holiday past, and the quiet midsummer days yet to come, the community will have a comparatively free period from public events that are more or less detracting to business. The period that is upon us, however, is by common consent considered the dull months and for that reason alone effort is relaxed, and trade remains quiescent because it is taken for granted that people are going away on vacations and do not want to buy.

With no detracting influences, it would seem that business might be greatly promoted and stimulated if the proper effort were made. Already the Pittsburg papers show that the big stores there are starting a campaign all along the line to reduce stocks and dispose of summer goods. Alluring and attractive bargains are displayed and special inducements offered to out-of-town shoppers. This should furnish an incentive to our local merchants. Now that every one is back to earth again and is ready to devote his entire energies to his personal affairs, the opportunity should not be neglected.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

We are informed by the Washington Record and the Friday Evening Call of Monessen that "sometime in the near future," an article will be printed in the Congressional Record, showing a plan devised by a Charleroi man for saving lives in mines. Considering that the article was printed in the Congressional Record May 28, it can be truthfully said that both papers are a month behind.

If you pay your gas bill the first day it is received and register your kick then, it may save your wearing a string around your finger for several days.

In all kindness and good will, Mr. Weatherman, we ask you that forgetting the past, you grant us good weather on the Fourth.

It's a problem as to whether Uniontown is more jealous of Connellsville than Connellsville is jealous of Uniontown.

Donora people lost a trolley company once and were sorry for it. Now Waynesburg council is making moves that will lose them a good company. And the only transportation facilities they have besides the old fashioned buckboard and horse, considering the automobile out of the question, is a nerve-racking, sickening, narrow gauge zig-zagging railway.

If everybody agreed with everybody else, there wouldn't be any use of a higher education—there would be no chance for argument.

Carmichaels, up in Greene county, has the reputation of being a mighty slow town, and the casual visitor would call any man a liar who said it wasn't, but it gets on a very speedy gait when the nags trot around its fair track once a year.

COUNTIES MUST NOW ARRANGF TO PURCHASE BRIDGE

Washington County Court A Proves Freeing of Belle Vernon Structure.

By a decision of the Washington county court this morning, the Belle Vernon bridge is made free. The Fayette county court passed favorably upon the matter recently and the only thing remaining was the action of the Washington county court. It will now be up to the two counties to make amicable arrangements with the owners of the structure, or begin condematory proceedings to secure possession of the bridge.

Early Psychotherapy.

In the Epistle of James we find the early Christian rule of psychotherapy. It was adopted by the early church and for many centuries was a rule of faith and practice in the Christian church in all its branches. It is still a rule of conduct in some of the older churches, and some leaders in churches where the rule has lapsed begin to plead for its revival and for the assumption by the church of what are called its legitimate powers. St. James said: "Is any sick among you, let him call for the elders of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up, and if he have committed sins they shall be forgiven him."—Christian Register.

Fourth Speakers Listened to By Great Number

deserves that name should do his best day by day to help solve these problems in the way that will bring the greatest good to all.

"Comparing our conditions with those of 20 years ago, we find that the progress has been wonderful; comparing present conditions with those of Revolutionary times, we find the change a revolution in itself. In the days of the Revoluion men worked for 50 cents a day and worked from sunrise to sunset. The cost of living was then greater than it is now. Fifty cents would not buy as much then as it will buy today, except in land. In those days a man had to work 32 days to pay for an ordinary linen sheet.

"With the wonderful progress and industrial development of a hundred years have come many evils to be remedied by you. In the great State of Pennsylvania more men were killed and injured in ten years in the peaceful pursuits of industrial work than gave up their lives on the bloody fields of the Revolution. One half of these could have been saved. For a long time we have been killing and maiming men in the peaceful pursuit of our work. This is a problem you must solve.

"Congressman Tener, pardon me if I address you personally, for I believe you are soon to have put upon your shoulders the responsibilities of administering the affairs of this great State, you can make no greater contribution to the welfare of humanity than through your efforts to give us laws in Pennsylyania that will save one-half of this great human sacrifice.

"In ten years 10,000 men have died in the mines alone and five times that many have been seriously injured Last year 1,000 lives were blotted out that this great industry might go on. One thousand widows and 5,000 orphans cast helpless into a cruel world. All experienced men who have any knowledge of coal mining agree that at least one-half of these could be prevented.

"Let me repeat it is the duty of every citizen to make some contribution to the welfare and happiness of others. This applies to the humblest workingman as well as these in high official life. Each and all can do something to make our country greater and its people happier. No man deserves to be happy or contented if another is in misery or want. All must do their best that there may be no suffering, misery, want or need. For too many people liberty means but bread. It were better that all the people were reasonably well off than that a few men should have all the wealth in this great land, while millions starve. A country's greatness is not judged by its wealth and millionares. It is the average man on whom the responsibilities of good government rest. It will be my constant prayer that Americans will soon have a state of society in which the conflicts of labor and capital shall be mimimized. We must work out our problems peacefuilly by each doing what we can to establish the principles of justice and fair play, better manhood, better conditions of life, to make better men and better women who stands for religion, education and morality. I shall hope in the future as I have prayed in the past to keep these great principles inviolate among men."

This concluded the exercises at "The Pines" and the crowd dispersed.

NASAL CATARRH

Henry L. Britton Says it is Easy to Get Rid Of.

"My head, nose and glands leading to my eyes and nose were stopped up and swollen. I tried several so-called catarrh cures, but Hyomei, used thoroughly did the curing. There is nothing too good to say in favor of Hyomei. It cured my nasal catarrh."—Henry L. Britton, Frost St. Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Hyomei, pronounced Highome, cures catarrh, because it gets where the germs are and destroys them. It is made of Australian eucalyptus, mixed with other healing antiseptics. When breathed over the irritated and inflamed membrane, it gives relief in two mintues.

Used regularly for a few weeks it will build up and heal the germ-infested membrane and drive out catarrh.

If you own a small Hyomei pocket inhaler, you can get a bottle of Hyomei at druggists everywhere, or at Piper Bros. for only 50 cents. If you do not own a Hyomei inhaler, ask for a complete outfit, the price is $1.00. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, croup or sore throat or money back. 1K4

Home Treatment for Tuberculosis
Less Expense Involved Than by Other and Less Effective Methods.

Hundreds of people have cured themselves of Tuberculosis by a very simple, inexpensive home method—fresh air, careful diet and Eckman's Alterative.

This Alterative is not a new medicine. It has been conquering tuberculosis for nearly 15 years, many cures resulting after sanatoria had failed and pronounced the cases incurable.

Think what this means. No specialist's fees; no sanatorium charges; no travelling expenses; no expensive egg-and-milk gorging. Eckman's Alterative has cured many people right in their own home, where their dear ones encourage them and give them that tender home care which money cannot buy.

Sanatorium treatments build up the body, but do not destroy the disease germs, so that after the sanatorium treatment is discontinued (you falsely believing that you are cured) galloping consumption ofttimes develops.

Be honest with yourself. Have your physician examine you NOW. He'll probably recommend the usual fresh-air, egg-and-milk or sanatorium treatments. Perhaps he'll tell you your case is incurable. Then, after you have thoroughly investigated our affidavits and testimonials—feeling sure in your own mind that if Eckman's Alterative has cured so many others it surely must help you—start taking the Alterative. Your improvement should be gradual, but certain. But don't think your cure is complete—KNOW it! Have the same physician examine you again. If you have been faithful to Eckman's Alterative he will be amazed at your improvement, if not reporting an absolute cure.

Eckman's Alterative is good for all Throat and Lung troubles, and is on sale in Charleroi by W. F. Hennings and other druggists. It can also be obtained at, or procured by, your local druggist. Ask for Booklet of Cured Cases or write for evidence to the Eckman Laboratory, Phila., Pa.

WAS A TRIUMPH FOR THE PARTY

Tener, the Tariff and Taft to Be Republican Slogan This Fall

WHOLE COUNTRY IS PLEASED

Indorsements Given State and National Administrations Satisfy the People and Guarantee Protection and Prosperity—Democracy in Great Distress.

Tener, the Tariff and Taft. Protection, Prosperity and the People. Pennsylvanians have weighed separately each element in those slogans and each has been approved heartily and sincerely. The recent Republican State convention first adopted the shortest and best platform ever framed for any political party in the State and then named candidates equal in every possible way to the personnel of any ticket ever presented to the electors. The convention was a magnificent triumph. It was made up of the most prominent Republican workers in the Commonwealth. These workers came together in friendly council and the ticket and the platform were the children of an earnest effort for the very best interests of the whole people. The delegates to the convention from every county in the State had a voice in selecting the standard bearers and in framing the party's platform. The important work was deliberate and thoughtful. Many earnest and sincere men were concerned and many opinions were submitted, but finally an agreement was reached both on the ticket and platform and both were given to the voters by unanimous consent of the entire convention. There was absolute harmony in the big convention. There was unbounded enthusiasm with its work. To all intents and purposes the campaign for a successor to Governor Edwin S. Stuart ended when the convention adjourned. John K. Tener and his colleagues on the Republican State ticket are just as certain of their election as they are of their nomination. The ticket from head to tail is made up of strong, clean, capable men. Men who have been tested and who have proven their worth. Men without factional alliances, but with pleasing personalities. Men who realize their responsibilities and who have the courage of their fixed convictions. Men who have come up direct from the people and who have equipped themselves for the people's service.

What a glowing triumph this ticket is to the Republican leadership in the old Keystone State. What a delight the party's platform must be to the regular Republicans of the whole nation. The courageous work of the Pennsylvania Republicans is being applauded by every Republican newspaper in the entire country. Not one discordant note is heard. Not one earnest Republican in the State has been heard in protest or complaint and on the other hand every Republican paper in the State has pledged its loyal support to Mr. Tener and his colleagues. Even the Democratic press of Pennsylvania is mute. The Democrats have failed to find a flaw in the ticket. They are not willing to indorse the Republicans but they are not disposed to appear ridiculous and are, therefore, silent. It really seems a pity that they lack the courage to move the election of Mr. Tener and his associates on the Republican ticket by unanimous consent.

The State campaign is likely to be opened some time early in September. Just now the weather is too hot for unnecessary campaign work. Party harmony and an irresistible ticket are sufficient. These combined with the record established by Governor Stuart during his administration and the confidence reposed by the people in the Republican leadership in this State guarantee Republican supremacy even against a united foe. Now, however, the foe is far from being united. The chances are increasing that the Democrats of the State may yet be forced to repudiate the nomination of their gubernatorial candidate, Webster Grim. Protesting conventions are being held in nearly every county calling for another convention and another gubernatorial candidate. The followers of Colonel Bryan, who were determined that W. H. Berry should be the Democratic candidate for Governor, are absolutely disconsolate. They will have Colonel Bryan's man or no candidate. The friends of Colonel J. M. Guffey, who owns and controls the Democratic organization of the State, will have none of Colonel Bryan or his man Berry and so the merry war goes on. Of course those Democrats who have been shouting themselves hoarse over the withdrawal of Mr. Munson from the fight for the gubernatorial nomination just before the Allentown convention convened are merely acting. There is not a sincere Democrat in the State who hoped to have Mr. Munson as the gubernatorial candidate. There is not a sincere Democrat in the State who does not know that with Munson as their candidate for Governor their campaign would have been one of false pretense and deception. Mr. Munson does not have anything in common with Democracy. He has large and well grounded interests and has made a fortune as the legal adviser of large and important corporations. He is able and capable and does not lend himself to petty tricks such as have been charged against him in refusing to stand as the candidate of the party which has been repeatedly discredited and beaten and which is now and always has been hopelessly torn by factional contentions. Many of the protesting Democratic conventions being held throughout the State are demanding that Mr Munson be investigated for his purpose in declining to be the Democratic candidate for Governor. That investigation in order to get at the real facts leading up to the defeat of Mr. Berry at the Allentown convention should start at Denver, where Mr. Berry and Colonel Bryan combined to throw Colonel Guffey and a few of his friends out of the Denver convention. In any event there should be no let up in the matter of investigating. Somebody played a low down trick on poor old Democracy and the guilty party should be exposed.

In the meantime the Republicans are comfortable and confident and their confidence is well sustained by such publications as the New York "Sun," a most discriminating newspaper, which says: "Representative John K. Tener fills the bill. Mr. Tener played professional baseball in 1887 to 1890, as he says in a sketch of his career, and it is said that 1891 found him in the banking business. He has ever since flourished both in business and politics. Six feet four and proportionately broad and solid, he will be one of the biggest Governors that Pennsylvania has ever possessed."

An Anecdote of Verdi.

The first production of Verdi's opera "Othello" took place at Milan, and all the prominent musical critics of Europe foregathered in the Cathedral City in honor of the occasion. Among them was a Parisian journalist of wide reputation and admitted authority in the musical world. His first care on his arrival in Milan was to seek out Verdi and ask to be allowed to be present at one of the final rehearsals. The composer received him with extreme politeness, but replied that he could not possibly grant his request, as he had decided that the rehearsals were to be absolutely private, and he could not make an exception in the favor of any one journalist, however distinguished.

The Paris critic, far from pleased at this answer, protested that in these circumstances his account of the opera might not be all he should like it to be. "You see," he explained to the composer, who affected not quite to understand, "I shall have to telegraph my article the same evening. It will necessarily be hastily written, and the impression in Paris the next day may suffer in consequence."

But Verdi was more than equal to the occasion. "My dear sir," he made answer, "I do not write for 'the next day.'" The critic bowed himself out.

The Oldest.

Three old sports were chatting after a copious dinner, when one of them said, "I bet $5 my name is the oldest."

The bet was immediately accepted, and he produced his card, reading "Mr Abel."

"Oh, dear $5!" said the second, showing his card. "I am Mr. Adam."

"Mine is the bet," replied the other, producing his card, and they could read "Mr. B. Ginning" printed on it.—Judge's Library.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin

ALL-STEEL SLEEPING CARS.

There are seventy-five all-steel, electric-lighted Pullman sleeping cars in active service on the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad System.

These "Dreadnaught" cars, fire-proof and break-proof—are running on the through trains between New York, Philadelphia, and Chicago, St. Louis, Nashville, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Wheeling, Pittsburg, Baltimore and Washington.

Six hundred all-steel Pullman cars have been ordered by the Pennsylvania Railroad System, and they are being delivered and placed in service at the rate of sixty cars a month.

"Dreadnaught" cars are fifty per cent, heavier and over sixty per cent more expensive than wooden cars, but the Pennsylvania Railroad considers the increase in expense fully justified by the increase in the safety and comfort of its passengers.

Including coaches, dining cars, baggage and postal cars, there are 704 steel cars in service at present, and this number will be increased to some 2000 in all as fast as the shops can turn them out.

BIG DEMONSTRATION ON FOURTH PROVIDES ENJOYMENT FOR THOUSANDS OF VISITORS

MANY NOTED LABOR LEADERS HERE AT THE INVITATION OF COMMITTEE

Large Industrial Parade in the Morning One of the Principal Features of Day---Old Soldiers in Automobiles Lead

PROGRAM FOLLOWED OUT WITH FEW DEVIATIONS

Charleroi had one of the biggest celebrations in its history yesterday and one of the biggest crowds ever in the town enjoyed it. The city had as its guests notable men, principal among which was the miners' idol, John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America. Judge J. F. Taylor of Washington, President Francis Feehan of District No, 5, U. M. W, A. State Senator A. H. Anderson, Timothy Donovan and Van Bitner, prominent mine officials, were among the notables here. Congressman J. K. Tener of Charleroi, Republican nominee for Governor, who was also one of the notables, was tendered an ovation by the Charleroi people and visitors.

The parade was one of the principal features of the day. It started shortly after the hour set in the morning and continued over the principal streets, ending in "The Pines," where speaking followed. The parade was led by automobiles carrying Civil War veterans, mostly members of the Ringgold Cavalry. The marshalls, and horsemen followed. The Charleroi fire department with complete equipment, the North Charleroi and Donora Departments all in dress parade uniform, the Charleroi and Washington Avenue Boys' Brigades, Turner actives and foreign delegations followed, with floats completing the line. The speakers rode in special carriages, with Mr. Mitchell being Supt. of Schools J. G. Pentz, Burgess George Risbeck, and Van Bitner. In the carriage with Judge Taylor and Mr. Tener were Theodore Allen and Rev. C E. Frontz of the reception committee.

After the speaking the guests took dinner at the Wilbur Hotel, and in the afternoon a public reception was given to Mr. Mitchell, Judge Taylor and Mr. Tener. Thousands met and shook hands with them.

The miners' race was held shortly after noon, and the first winner was Wilils Briggs of Charleroi. At the ball park the bull fight between a tame bull and F. B. Franks was scheduled. An immense crowd appeared, and Franks spent over a half hour endeavoring to throw the bull, which absolutely refused to be downed, but instead apparently enjoyed the performance, and landed the man on his back several times. In the morning Franks gave a good demonstration at the ball park and broke all records for strength.

Following the afternoon strong man performance the Catholics and Christians of the church league played a game. A morning game was played between the First Presbyterians and Episcopals.

In the evening from a float at the ball ground fireworks were set off. There was no balloon ascension as scheduled, a telegram having been received at the last moment that the balloonist having broken both his legs it was impossible for him to come or to get a substitute.

BULLETIN SERVICE OF FIGHT PLEASING

Telephone Companies Give Reports of Jeffries—Johnston Battle.

Bulletins from the big prize fight between Johnson and Jeffries at Rano, Nevada, were given out yesterday evening from the balcony of the Charleroi Savings and Trust company building by the Bell Telephone people to an immense crowd. As fast as the news of a round was received by wire it was megaphoned to the waiting crowd, which was decidedly Jeffries in sentiment. When it was announced that Johnson was the winner of the championship in the 15th round there was a groan of disappointment, particularly from those who had the Jeffries end in the betting arena, and these were numerous. One man remarked that he would just as lief received news of a death in his family as to hear that Johnson had won. A negro in the crowd became so hilarious that he provoked an assault, and when he drew a razor the police hustled him to the lockup. A big lot of money changed hands over the result among the sporting fraternity of the town.

LITTLE DISORDER ON THE STREETS

There was little disorder in Charleroi yesterday, considering the immense crowds which thronged the streets from early morn until late at night. Chief of Police C. W. Albright had ten officers on the force, and the presence of these on the streets was sufficient warning to evil doers to be careful. There were but six arrests made in all, two for drunkeness and the others for fighting. One fight was over the result of the Jeffries-Johnson battle.

MRS. FLYNN DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. Mary Flynn, about 70 years old, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Rigby, 733 McKean avenue, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Flynn was the widow of the late Thomas Flynn of Pittsburg. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock with requiem high mass at St. Jerome's Catholic church and interment in Calvary cemetery.

Three-Year-Old Causes Trouble

Wanders Away From Home and is Located in Monessen

After having passed his parents great agony, and a sleepless night, Peter Yaros, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yaros, Russians, of 610 Ninth street, was found at Monessen this morning. The boy had wandered away from his home yesterday afternoon at about 4 o'clock, and no trace of him could be found until a telephone message from Monessen this morning announced that he had been found and was at the police station there.

He was playing alone in the street at about 4 o'clock and it is supposed was attracted by some boys not far distant shooting off fireworks and wandered too far away.

How he got to Monessen is a mystery.

FOURTH BIG DAY FOR ELDORA PARK

One of Largest Crowds in History Accommodated---Dancing A Feature

Fourth of July drew the biggest crowd to Eldora Park that ever assembled at that popular resort. The dancing pavilion was one of the chief sources of amusement, while the other attractions furnished entertainment for the crowds. Basket and family picnics were also a feature, many preferring to spend the day in the cool shade of the park to the crowded towns where demonstrations were held. A still larger crowd was present at night, when the dancing pavilion was taxed to its utmost capacity.

CATHOLICS BEAT CHRISTIANS IN ONE-SIDED GAME

The Catholics won from the Christians in a good, but rather one-sided contest in the afternoon yesterday. The game was featured by the heavy hitting of the Catholics when hits counted, and the non-hitting by the Christans of Beno's breakers. The Catholics scored their first run in the first inning, and three in the third. Four were scored in the seventh, a home run helping to some extent. The score:

FOURTH SPEAKERS LISTENED TO BY GREAT NUMBER OF VALLEY PEOPLE

GOOD WORD SAID FOR OLD SOLDIERS WHO MADE INDEPENDENCE DAY POSSIBLE

Judge J. F. Taylor, and John Mitchell Speak Good Words for Present Day Complex Governent

MR. TENER REFERRED TO AS "THE NEXT GOVERNOR"

Flanked by autos, bands and carriages in a hollow square, 5,000 or 6,000 people stood before the speakers' stand in "The Pines" yesterday where they were treated to some brilliant patriotic and civic addresses by Congressman J. K. Tener, Judge J. F. Taylor, and John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers. The stand which seated about 60 people, the guests of honor, was appropriately draped with the National colors, "Old Glory" being in bold relief to furnish inspiration; Seated on the platform were the invited guests, members of the Ringgold Battalion, and other civil war veterans, delegations of labor organizations, representatives of the press and various notables. Among these were of course the speakers of the day and the reception committee. Other prominent personages were Francis Feehan, president of district of No 5 Van Bitner, vice president and A. H. Anderson, Republican, candidate for Senator of the Washington-Greene district.

Superintendent J. G. Pentz of the reception committee introducted Congressman John K. Tener, who was given an ovation, which showed the genuine esteem in which he is held by his friends and neighbors. In introducing Judge J. F. Taylor of the Washington county court, Mr. Tener said that of the three branches of government, the legislative, the executive and judiciary, he considered the latter the most important, as it is before that branch that the final test of every law is made. Judge Taylor, who is highly esteemed in this community, also received an ovation. He said in part:

"Honorable Chairman and Fellow-Citizens: We are comparatively a new nation, but we realize that we have a history back of us. This is distinctly a day for Americans and American events. Our history is filled with records of the hardest self sacrifice. If we look back but a little more than a century ago, we find our forefathers in the forests of New England cutting wood with their muskets near at hand and going to church and stacking their crude weapons at the door. We of the present day know but little of the hardships and sacrifices of the old soldiers of Revolutionary times. Then everything was uncertain and life itself was a hardship in the untried forests of the north. But America has since become synonomous for liberty wherever our flag is known.

"Wherever our stars and stripes float upon the breeze is liberty and justice to every man. From a few small settlements in the far north we have grown to a nation of ninety millons of people, whose territory go beyond two oceans. The growth has been made through sacrifice and strife but the old ship of state proudly goes into the second century of the voyage.

"In this time great sacrifices have been laid upon the altar of freedom. Through all the hardships of two long wars there was never a mutiny or refusal to fight for our government and principles for which it stands.

"Under our great free government there is no gift so high but it is within the reach of the humblest citizen. Let us keep it so that when centuries have come and gone halls and galleries will still be filled to proclaim the principles of justice and liberty for each and all."

John Mitchell, who is the idol of the coal miners, was wildly applauded when he was introduced by Congressman J. K. Tener. His talk was along the lines of better citizenship, and he was attentively listened to by the big crowd present. He said in part:

"When I received a communication from your esteemed citizen and neighbor, the Hon. John K. Tener, inviting me to come here on this occasion, I hesitated somewhat because the Fourth of July is a day that one usually likes to spend at home. But the temptation to spend the day among friends and fellow workmen, and to talk to you briefly, was too strong to be resisted. If I shall talk from the view of and in the language of a workingman I trust that you will consider me none the less patriotic or none the less interested in the history and welfare of this great republic. We are citizens first, and wage earners next. Because this is so we must have first at heart the welfare of our country.

"Let us give all due credit and honor to the farmers of Lexington for their great and glorious achievements. Yet I would remind you that when the fires of liberty burned low and the future appeared dark and hope of liberty was almost gone, the workingmen of New England went into the struggle with hearts of brave, strong and determined men. Yes, the organized workmen of New England played a great part in the struggle for American liberty. The courage and daring of men like the great Paul Revere, an organized labor man, and friends, helped to make possible the priceless liberty that is ours. It was organized men who dumped the tea in the Boston harbor.

"But it is not enough for us to live in the past. It is the duty of every patriotic citizen to preserve the blessed heritage of liberty won by that great struggle and to transmit it to coming generations in greater measure than has been ours to enjoy. It is our duty to keep inviolate the gift that was purchased by our father's blood.

"In the days of the Revolution we did not have the complex civilization of today. We were then an agricultural people. There were then no railroads, no mills, no factories, no telephones, no telegraphs, no street cars, no coal mines. We were four million farmers.

"Since then we have known the greatest and most complex civilization on the earth. The great industrial development has brought with it the most complex problems with which men have ever had to deal; problems as great, if not greater, than confronted our fathers at the time of the Revolution. Every American who

Understood That He Confessed to Crime With Which He Was Charged.

It is stated that Rev. Acacius Kaminisky, late priest at the Greek Catholic church, Charleroi, is now confined in an insane asylum, at Philadelphia, where it is understood he was taken after confessing to a serious crime with which he was charged by a McAdoo citizen. It is understood that while being taken to McAdoo by the constable of that place and Officer Theron Province of Charleroi, that he finally confessed to the crime, and was later held under $1,000 bail for court. Friends intervened, according to information learned this morning, and he was sent to the insane asylum, it being charged that he was mentally irresponsible for his actions.

It is also stated that Rev. Kaminisky is not in good standing in the church having been ex-communicated about a year ago for insubordination to his bishop.

Another Triumph

Barring a few minor disappointments Charleroi's Fourth of July demonstrations was a success in every particular. The crowd came, saw and was conquered. A perfect day, a royal welcome, and plenty of entertainment and enjoyment were what the immense crowd of visitors got for their effort, while Charleroi is several notches higher in the estimation of the surrounding community far and near as a town that does things and does them right.

The committees in charge of the day have reason to be proud of their success. The success of the demonstration was that while there were no wildly sensational features, there were many pleasing and enjoyable forms of entertainment which were varied enough to suit the different tastes and temperaments of all. There was much of the spectacular in the parade, while in the addresses the vast assemblage found ample entertainment. Congressman John K. Tener's cordial welcome to the assembled hosts and his hearty reception emphasized the good will and esteem in which outside people have for him. Judge J. F. Taylor's stirring patriotic address made the blood tingle in the veins of all free born Americans, while the earnest appeal of John Mitchell, the great labor leader, for justice, humanity and duty between man and man put the labor situation in a new light to those who might have been led to believe that any means justifies an end.

With ample facilities for taking care of and entertaining the crowd, Charleroi proved to be an admirable host. Good order was maintained throughout the day, and every one felt perfectly safe from personal molestation and other disagreeable fatures incident to a big crowd. A day spent like the Fourth in Charleroi carries with it no regrets and brings us the good will of all.

Back to Earth

With the Fourth of July holiday past, and the quiet midsummer days yet to come, the community will have a comparatively free period from public events that are more or less detracting to business. The period that is upon us, however, is by common consent considered the dull months and for that reason alone effort is relaxed, and trade remains quiescent because it is taken for granted that people are going away on vacations and do not want to buy.

With no detracting influences, it would seem that business might be greatly promoted and stimulated if the proper effort were made. Already the Pittsburg papers show that the big stores there are starting a campaign all along the line to reduce stocks and dispose of summer goods. Alluring and attractive bargains are displayed and special inducements offered to out-of-town shoppers. This should furnish an incentive to our local merchants. Now that every one is back to earth again and is ready to devote his entire energies to his personal affairs, the opportunity should not be neglected.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

We are informed by the Washington Record and the Friday Evening Call of Monessen that "sometime in the near future," an article will be printed in the Congressional Record, showing a plan devised by a Charleroi man for saving lives in mines. Considering that the article was printed in the Congressional Record May 25, it can be truthfully said that both papers are a month behind.

If you pay your gas bill the first day it is received and register your kick then, it may save your wearing a string around your finger for several days.

In all kindness and good will, Mr. Weatherman, we ask you that forgetting the past, you grant us good weather on the Fourth.

It's a problem as to whether Uniontown is more jealous of Connellsville than Connellsville is jealous of Uniontown.

Donora people lost a trolley company once and were sorry for it. Now Waynesburg council is making moves that will lose them a good company. And the only transportation facilities they have besides the old fashioned buckboard and horse, considering the automobile out of the question, is a nerve-racking, sickening, narrow gauge zig-zagging railway.

If everybody agreed with everybody else, there wouldn't be any use of a higher education—there would be no chance for argument.

Carmichaels, up in Greene county, has the reputation of being a mighty slow town, and the casual visitor would call any man a liar who said it wasn't, but it gets on a very speedy gait when the nags trot around its fair track once a year.

Some men would made the best politicians if they would only out of politics.

COUNTIES MUST NOW ARRANGE TO PURCHASE BRIDGE

Washington County Court A Proves Freeing of Belle Vernon Structure.

By a decision of the Washington county court this morning, the Belle Vernon bridge is made free. The Fayette county court passed favorably upon the matter recently and the only thing remaining was the action of the Washington county court. It will now be up to the two counties to make amicable arrangements with the owners of the structure, or begin condemnatory proceedings to secure possession of the bridge.

Dale Allen was home from Girard, Ohio, to spend the Fourth with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Allen of McKean avenue.

Early Psychotherapy.

In the Epistle of James we find the early Christian rule of psychotherapy. It was adopted by the early church and for many centuries was a rule of faith and practice in the Christian church in all its branches. It is still a rule of conduct in some of the older churches, and some leaders in churches where the rule has lapsed begin to plead for its revival and for the assumption by the church of what are called its legitimate powers. St. James said: "Is any sick among you, let him call for the elders of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up, and if he have committed sins they shall be forgiven him."—Christian Register.

deserves that name should do his best day by day to help solve these problems in the way that will bring the greatest good to all.

"Comparing our conditions with those of 20 years ago, we find that the progress has been wonderful; comparing present conditions with those of Revolutionary times, we find the change a revolution in itself. In the days of the Revolution men worked for 50 cents a day and worked from sunrise to sunset. The cost of living was then greater than it is now. Fifty cents would not buy as much then as it will buy today, except in land. In those days a man had to work 32 days to pay for an ordinary linen sheet.

"With the wonderful progress and industrial development of a hundred years have come many evils to be remedied by you. In the great State of Pennsylvania more men were killed and injured in ten years in the peaceful pursuits of industrial work than gave up their lives on the bloody fields of the Revolution. One half of these could have been saved. For a long time we have been killing and maiming men in the peaceful pursuit of our work. This is a problem you must solve.

"Congressman Tener, pardon me if I address you personally, for I believe you are soon to have put upon your shoulders the responsibilities of administering the affairs of this great State, you can make no greater contribution to the welfare of humanity than through your efforts to give us laws in Pennsylvania that will save one-half of this great human sacrifice.

"In ten years 10,000 men have died in the mines alone and five times that many have been seriously injured Last year 1,000 lives were blotted out that this great industry might go on. One thousand widows and 5,000 orphans cast helpless into a cruel world. All experienced men who have any knowledge of coal mining agree that at least one-half of these could be prevented.

"Let me repeat it is the duty of every citizen to make some contribution to the welfare and happiness of others. This applies to the humblest workingman as well as these in high official life. Each and all can do something to make our country greater and its people happier. No man deserves to be happy or contented if another is in misery or want. All must do their best that there may be no suffering, misery, want or need. For too many people liberty means but bread. It were better that all the people were reasonably well off than that a few men should have all the wealth in this great land, while millions starve. A country's greatness is not judged by its wealth and millionares. It is the average man on whom the responsibilities of good government rest. It will be my constant prayer that Americans will soon have a state of society in which the conflicts of labor and capital shall be mimimized. We must work out our problems peacefuilly by each doing what we can to establish the principles of justice and fair play, better manhood, better conditions of life, to make better men and better women who stands for religion, education and morality. I shall hope in the future as I have prayed in the past to keep these great principles inviolate among men."

This concluded the exercises at "The Pines" and the crowd dispersed.

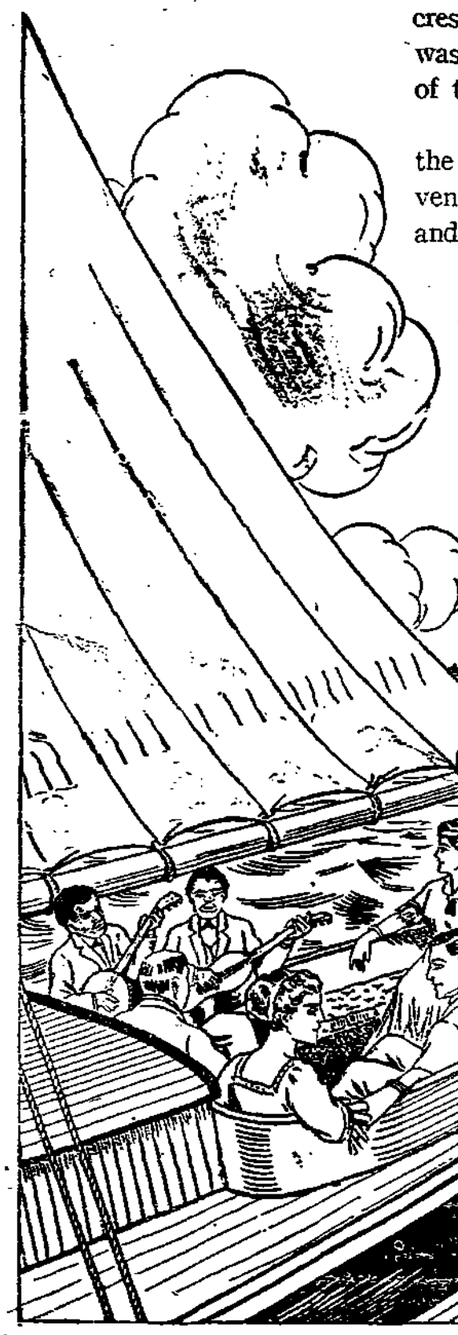
"The water is fine; come in!"

From gay Atlantic City comes the call; from witching Wildwood; from Cape May in the flush of her rejuvenation; from Asbury Park and Long Branch where the rare beauty of the country with its sylvan shades meets the crests of the incoming billows; from all the wave-washed coast of New Jersey, comes the summer call of the sea.



To all these delightful resorts, the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad is high-grade and convenient. To Atlantic City, Cape May, Wildwood, and Ocean City, direct connection is made via the Delaware River Bridge without transfer across Philadelphia.

To Asbury Park, Long Branch, and the Upper Coast resorts, good service is provided by through trains from Philadelphia.

The call of the sea is on. It promises a regular dividend of pleasure, and an extra grant of health and vigor to those who heed it.

Will you come?

NASAL CATARRH

Henry L. Britton Says it is Easy to Get Rid Of.

"My head, nose and glands leading to my eyes and nose were stopped up and swollen. I tried several so-called catarrh cures, but Hyomei, used thoroughly did the curing. There is nothing too good to say in favor of Hyomei. It cured my nasal catarrh."—Henry L. Britton, Frost St. Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Hyomei, pronounced Highome, cures catarrh, because it gets where the germs are and destroys them. It is made of Australian eucalyptus, mixed with other healing antiseptics. When breathed over the irritated and inflamed membrane, it gives relief in two mintues.

Used regularly for a few weeks it will build up and heal the germ-infested membrane and drive out catarrh.

If you own a small Hyomei pocket inhaler, you can get a bottle of Hyomei at druggists everywhere, or at Piper Bros. for only 50 cents. If you do not own a Hyomei inhaler, ask for a complete outfit, the price is $1.00. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, croup or sore throat or money back. 1K4

Home Treatment for Tuberculosis

Less Expense Involved Than by Other and Less Effective Methods.

Hundreds of people have cured themselves of Tuberculosis by a very simple, inexpensive home method—fresh air, careful diet and Eckman's Alterative.

This Alterative is not a new medicine. It has been conquering tuberculosis for nearly 15 years, many cures resulting after sanatoria had failed and pronounced the cases incurable.

Think what this means. No specialist's fees; no sanatorium charges; no travelling expenses; no expensive egg-and-milk gorging. Eckman's Alterative has cured many people right in their own home, where their dear ones encourage them and give them that tender home care which money cannot buy.

Sanatorium treatments build up the body, but do not destroy the disease-germs, so that after the sanatorium treatment is discontinued (you falsely believing that you are cured) galloping consumption oftimes develops.

Be honest with yourself. Have your physician examine you NOW. He'll probably recommend the usual fresh-air, egg-and-milk or sanatorium treatments. Perhaps he'll tell you your case is incurable. Then, after you have thoroughly investigated our affidavits and testimonials—feeling sure in your own mind that if Eckman's Alterative has cured so many others it surely must help you—start taking the Alterative. Your improvement should be gradual, but certain. But don't think your cure is complete—KNOW it! Have the same physician examine you again. If you have been faithful to Eckman's Alterative he will be amazed at the improvement, if not reporting an absolute cure.

Eckman's Alterative is good for all Throat and Lung troubles, and is on sale in Charleroi by W. F. Hennings and other druggists. It can also be obtained at, or procured by, your local druggist. Ask for Booklet of Cured Cases or write for evidence to the Eckman Laboratory, Phila., Pa.

BELL

The Standard of ALL Telephone Systems

THE Bell was the first telephone. It was the first telephone in public use. It is still the first. Its employees are numbered by hundreds of thousands—its stations by millions—its annual calls by billions. It is the standard of all telephone systems.

The Bell System reaches everywhere:—across the street—to neighboring communities—to cities half-way across the country.

The Bell is the one system for you—because it does not confine you to local calls only. It keeps you in touch with far-away interests at all times. However distant your wanderings take you it keeps you in touch with home.

The standard system—the ever-ready system—the reliable system—the system for YOU.

WAS A TRIUMPH FOR THE PARTY

Tener, the Tariff and Taft to Be Republican Slogan This Fall

WHOLE COUNTRY IS PLEASED

Indorsements Given State and National Administrations Satisfy the People and Guarantee Protection and Prosperity—Democracy in Great Distress.

Tener, the Tariff and Taft. Protection, Prosperity and the People. Pennsylvanians have weighed separately each element in those slogans and each has been approved heartily and sincerely. The recent Republican State convention first adopted the shortest and best platform ever framed for any political party in the State and then named candidates equal in every possible way to the personnel of any ticket ever presented to the electors. The convention was a magnificent triumph. It was made up of the most prominent Republican workers in the Commonwealth. These workers came together in friendly council and the ticket and the platform were the children of an earnest effort for the very best interests of the whole people. The delegates to the convention from every county in the State had a voice in selecting the standard bearers and in framing the party's platform. The important work was deliberate and thoughtful. Many earnest and sincere men were concerned and many opinions were submitted, but finally an agreement was reached both on the ticket and platform and both were given to the voters by unanimous consent of the entire convention. There was absolute harmony in the big convention. There was unbounded enthusiasm with its work. To all intents and purposes the campaign for a successor to Governor Edwin S. Stuart ended when the convention adjourned. John K. Tener and his colleagues on the Republican State ticket are just as certain of their election as they are of their nomination. The ticket from head to tail is made up of strong, clean, capable men. Men who have been tested and who have proven their worth. Men without factional alliances, but with pleasing personalities. Men who realize their responsibilities and who have the courage of their fixed convictions. Men who have come up direct from the people and who have equipped themselves for the people's service.

What a glowing triumph this ticket is to the Republican leadership in the old Keystone State. What a delight the party's platform must be to the regular Republicans of the whole nation. The courageous work of the Pennsylvania Republicans is being applauded by every Republican newspaper in the entire country. Not one discordant note is heard. Not one earnest Republican in the State has been heard in protest or complaint and on the other hand every Republican paper in the State has pledged its loyal support to Mr. Tener and his colleagues. Even the Democratic press of Pennsylvania is mute. The Democrats have failed to find a flaw in the ticket. They are not willing to indorse the Republicans but they are not disposed to appear ridiculous and are, therefore, silent. It really seems a pity that they lack the courage to move the election of Mr. Tener and his associates on the Republican ticket by unanimous consent.

The State campaign is likely to be opened some time early in September. Just now the weather is too hot for unnecessary campaign work. Party harmony and an irresistible ticket are sufficient. These combined with the record established by Governor Stuart during his administration and the confidence reposed by the people in the Republican leadership in this State guarantee Republican supremacy even against a united foe. Now, however, the foe is far from being united. The chances are increasing that the Democrats of the State may yet be forced to repudiate the nomination of their gubernatorial candidate, Webster Grim. Protesting conventions are being held in nearly every county calling for another convention and another gubernatorial candidate. The followers of Colonel Bryan, who were determined that W. H. Berry should be the Democratic candidate for Governor, are absolutely disconsolate. They will have Colonel Bryan's man or no candidate. The friends of Colonel J. M. Guffey, who owns and controls the Democratic organization of the State, will have none of Colonel Bryan or his man Berry and so the merry war goes on. Of course those Democrats who have been shouting themselves hoarse over the withdrawal of Mr. Munson from the fight for the gubernatorial nomination just before the Allentown convention convened are merely acting. There is not a sincere Democrat in the State who hoped to have Mr. Munson as the gubernatorial candidate. There is not a sincere Democrat in the State who does not know that with Munson as their candidate for Governor their campaign would have been one of false pretense and deception. Mr. Munson does not have anything in common with Democracy. He has large and well grounded interests and has made a fortune as the legal adviser of large and important corporations. He is able and capable and does not lend himself to petty tricks such as have been charged against him in refusing to stand as the candidate of the party which has been repeatedly discredited and beaten and which is now and always has been hopelessly torn by factional contentions. Many of the protesting Democratic conventions being held throughout the State are demanding that Mr Munson be investigated for his purpose in declining to be the Democratic candidate for Governor. That investigation in order to get at the real facts leading up to the defeat of Mr. Berry at the Allentown convention should start at Denver, where Mr. Berry and Colonel Bryan combined to throw Colonel Guffey and a few of his friends out of the Denver convention. In any event there should be no let up in the matter of investigating. Somebody played a low down trick on poor old Democracy and the guilty party should be exposed.

In the meantime the Republicans are comfortable and confident and their confidence is well sustained by such publications as the New York "Sun," a most discriminating newspaper, which says: "Representative John K. Tener fills the bill. Mr. Tener played professional baseball in 1887 to 1890, as he says in a sketch of his career, and it is said that 1891 found him in the banking business. He has ever since flourished both in business and politics. Six feet four and proportionately broad and solid, he will be one of the biggest Governors that Pennsylvania has ever possessed."

An Anecdote of Verdi.

The first production of Verdi's opera "Othello" took place at Milan, and all the prominent musical critics of Europe foregathered in the Cathedral City in honor of the occasion. Among them was a Parisian journalist of wide reputation and admitted authority in the musical world. His first care on his arrival in Milan was to seek out Verdi and ask to be allowed to be present at one of the final rehearsals. The composer received him with extreme politeness, but replied that he could not possibly grant his request, as he had decided that the rehearsals were to be absolutely private, and he could not make an exception in the favor of any one journalist, however distinguished.

The Paris critic, far from pleased at this answer, protested that in these circumstances his account of the opera might now be all he should like it to be. "You see," he explained to the composer, who affected not quite to understand, "I shall have to telegraph my article the same evening. It will necessarily be hastily written, and the impression in Paris the next day may suffer in consequence."

But Verdi was more than equal to the occasion. "My dear sir," he made answer, "I do not write for 'the next day.'" The critic bowed himself out.

The Oldest.

Three old sports were chatting after a copious dinner, when one of them said, "I bet $5 my name is the oldest."

The bet was immediately accepted, and he produced his card, reading "Mr Abel."

"Oh, dear $5!" said the second, showing his card. "I am Mr. Adam."

"Mine is the bet," replied the other, producing his card, and they could read "Mr. B. Ginning" printed on it.—Judge's Library.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin

ALL-STEEL SLEEPING CARS.

There are seventy-five all-steel, electric-lighted Pullman sleeping cars in active service on the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad System.

These "Dreadnaught" cars, fire-proof and break-proof—are running on the through trains between New York, Philadelphia, and Chicago, St. Louis, Nashville, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Wheeling, Pittsburg, Baltimore and Washington.

Six hundred all-steel Pullman cars have been ordered by the Pennsylvania Railroad System, and they are being delivered and placed in service at the rate of sixty cars a month.

"Dreadnaught" cars are fifty per cent, heavier and over sixty per cent more expensive than wooden cars, but the Pennsylvania Railroad considers the increase in expense fully justified by the increase in the safety and comfort of its passengers.

Including coaches, dining cars, baggage and postal cars, there are 704 steel cars in service at present, and this number will be increased to some 2000 in all as fast as the shops can turn them out.
